Howse Williams is an independent Hong Kong law firm which combines the in-depth experience of its lawyers with a creative, forward-thinking approach.

About Us

Our key practice areas are corporate/commercial and corporate finance; commercial and maritime dispute resolution; clinical negligence and healthcare; insurance, personal injury and professional indemnity insurance; employment; family and matrimonial; property and building management; banking; financial services/corporate regulatory and compliance.

As an independent law firm we are able to minimise legal and commercial conflicts of interest and act for clients in every industry sector. The partners have spent the majority of their careers in Hong Kong and have a detailed understanding of international business and business in Asia.

The HW partners and their teams have an excellent reputation for delivering high quality legal advice with a practical and commercial approach to solving legal issues in line with clients' commercial objectives.

Commercial

HW's clients vary from internationally listed and private companies as well as multi-national conglomerates to local, family-owned businesses. Practice areas include:

- Alternative dispute resolution, including arbitration and mediation (Chris Howse is an accredited Arbitrator and Mediator, whilst David Kan is an accredited Mediator).
- Banking / financial services disputes.
- Commercial contract disputes.
- Commercial fraud.
- Contentious probate.
- Defamation.
- Shareholder / franchise / joint venture disputes.
- Boardroom disputes.
- Trade finance / sale of goods disputes.

Corporate and Regulatory

HW's clients (both corporate and private individual professionals) include those subject to regulatory regimes, including governmental, professional and other public authorities with investigations, disciplinary proceedings and prosecutions often the subject of judicial review proceedings. The wide-ranging caseload includes:

- Jill Wong specialises in financial services and corporate regulatory and compliance issues. She has 20 years' experience advising financial institutions and multinational companies on contentious and non-contentious regulatory, compliance and risk management matters.
- Representing clients in regulatory investigations conducting internal inquiries; advising on regulatory compliance and advising on licensing and other applications to regulators and liaising with regulators on behalf of clients.
- Conducting administrative, regulatory, disciplinary and legal proceedings before the relevant boards, tribunals and courts.
- Contentious takeovers and mergers.
- Public inquiries.
- Investigations and prosecutions by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority, the Securities and Futures Commission, the Independent Commission Against Corruption and the Commercial Crime Bureau.
- The Medico-Legal and Professional Indemnity Insurance teams often work together on matters involving investigations and disciplinary proceedings by professional regulators.

Clinical Negligence and Healthcare

The Medico-Legal team is led by partners Chris Howse, David Kan, Bernard Murphy, Oonagh Toner and Alison Scott. David Kan and Bernard Murphy are dual-qualified as solicitors and medical practitioners.

Our clients include private hospitals as well as doctors, nurses, mid-wives, dentists, physiotherapists, group practices, other medical professionals and their respective insurers. We regularly advise on medico-legal matters that include:

- Internal hospital / clinic policies and procedures (e.g. admission, inter-hospital transfer procedures and incident reporting) and clinical risk management.
- Nursing and operations, including nursing operation guidelines, negligence claims against nurses and employment issues involving medical and nursing staff.
- Patient complaints, including those to the Department of Health. Assistance is given to private hospitals and to general and dental practices from an early stage in the investigation.
- Clinical negligence claims against doctors, dentists and private hospitals, including high-value obstetric cases and brain damage claims. As members of the legal panels of several healthcare professional indemnity insurers, our team handles a high volume of clinical negligence claims.
- General legal and ethical advice on confidentiality, patient rights, informed consent, documentation, record keeping and the release of information (including disclosure following death). David Kan has particular experience in mental health issues, and regularly lectures at specialist colleges, private hospitals and at medical and dental practices. He is also on the panel of the Guardianship Board.
- Representation before coroner's inquests, the Physiotherapists Board and the Medical and Dental Councils. Bernard Murphy has particular experience appearing before the Coroner's Court, whilst Chris Howse regularly advocates before the Medical and Dental Councils.
- Criminal proceedings including manslaughter and indecent assault; ICAC investigations and the Prevention of Bribery Ordinance; as well as breaches of the Pharmacy and Poisons Ordinance and the Dangerous Drugs Ordinance.
- Media coverage.
- Other legal issues pertaining to daily operations in private hospitals (e.g. debt collection, advertising and practice promotion, family disputes regarding patient care, the granting of admission privileges, discharge against medical advice and employment in the healthcare sector).

Insurance / Professional Indemnity / D&O

HW's clients are represented in a range of industries and include doctors, dentists, solicitors, accountants, architects, estate / property agencies and surveyors.

Our Insurance, Medico-Legal and Shipping teams work closely together in order to maximise the overlapping practice areas.

Members of our team sit on legal panels for professional indemnity insurers that cover accountants, doctors, dentists and solicitors. These partners also hold honorary advisory positions in medical and insurance organisations and are members of advisory committees for professional regulators. We focus on areas that include:

- Professional negligence complaints and claims against professionals

- All matters of general insurance (e.g. coverage, indemnity, aggregation, business interruption, event and regulation)
- Managing D&O claims

HW's market-leading Medical and Commercial Professional Indemnity Insurance teams have successfully managed and defended a significant number of valuable and high-profile professional indemnity claims against a wide range of professional individuals and organisations.

Employment

HW's Employment team, led by partner Patricia Yeung, advises on all aspects of Hong Kong's employment law, including confidentiality clauses, data privacy issues, sex, race, family status and disability discrimination, non-solicitation clauses, provident funds, reductions in benefits, redundancy, restrictive covenants, share option schemes, transfers of business, summary dismissal, termination, payments due on termination, wrongful termination and springboard relief. We also work regularly with lawyers from other Asian jurisdiction to provide advice on immigration and work permit applications.

We provide our clients with a full service in respect of contentious and non-contentious Hong Kong employment matters from drafting employment contracts, staff handbooks and internal policies / procedures to handling disputes arising both during and on termination of the employer-employee relationship.

Our clients include organisations and individuals from a wide variety of international and local industries and markets with a large proportion of our client-base consisting of financial institutions and professional firms.

In 2013 HW was awarded International Employment Law Firm of the Year in Hong Kong by Global Law Experts.

Shipping and International Trade

HW's Shipping team is led by Chris Howse, David Coogans and William Leung. Clients include charterers and their insurers (P&I Clubs), cargo owners, freight forwarders, ship owners, recovery agents, banks, logistic companies, godowns, terminals, port authorities, commodity traders and their insurers. Our practice includes:

- P&I and defence club work
- Policy terms and disputes (e.g. war risk, breach of warranty, insurable interest, material non-disclosure etc.)
- Charter party and bill of lading disputes
- Collision, salvage and wreck removal
- Commodity and sale of goods disputes
- Trade finance
- Marine insurance disputes (cargo and hull policies)

- Maritime arbitration under both CIETAC and CMAC in Hong Kong, Korea and the PRC
- MOA disputes
- Personal injury and crew claims

Marine Personal Injury

HW's Shipping and Medico-Legal teams work together to advise on matters relating to personal injuries and fatalities suffered on board ship.

Contentious Probate / Trusts

HW's Dispute Resolution team works together with its Family and Matrimonial team when handling contentious probate and trusts matters, involving litigation arising from disputed wills, administration of estates, enforcement of trust arrangements, competing beneficial interests and all manner of inheritance situations.

Property and Building Management

HW's clients include some of the largest international real estate agents, listed property developers; international and local building management companies; quasi government bodies; property investment funds; incorporated owners of commercial/residential buildings; commercial and individual landlords and tenants in Hong Kong.

Chris specialises in maritime and commercial dispute resolution, handling a wide range of disputes in the Hong Kong courts and international arbitrations throughout Asia. He has considerable experience in all types of dry shipping litigation on behalf of owners, charterers and their P&I Clubs. He also has particular expertise handling problems arising from the shipment of coal, iron ore, nickel ore and fluorspar.

Chris has more than 35 years of legal experience. He built the Hong Kong office of Richards Butler and he was Senior Partner and Managing Partner of that office from 1983 to 2011. He has considerable experience in arbitration and he is qualified as an arbitrator in Hong Kong, China (CMAC), Korea, Malaysia and other Southeast Asian jurisdictions. He has represented parties in arbitrations in China (both CIETAC and CMAC), Hong Kong, London, Singapore and Malaysia. In addition, Chris is an accredited mediator.

Chris also provides professional indemnity advice and assistance to a full spectrum of professionals in Hong Kong, including solicitors, accountants, brokers, architects, doctors, dentists and other healthcare professionals.

Chris leads the medico-legal team with fellow partners David Kan and Bernard Murphy. They advise doctors, dentists and their indemnity provider – the Medical Protection Society and Dental Protection Ltd – as well as private hospitals and other healthcare professionals. Chris also advises private hospitals, corporate healthcare providers and pharmaceutical companies on issues relating to the import and distribution of drugs and pharmaceutical products, drug liability claims and other regulatory matters.

David is a dual qualified medical doctor/solicitor and is a Founding Member of the Faculty of Forensic and Legal Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians (UK). He "changed horses" to law almost 30 years ago and has specialized in healthcare law since.

Nowadays David and Chris Howse lead a team of healthcare lawyers, which is the largest team of its kind in HK, with extensive experience in defending clinical negligence claims.

As an experienced litigator, David has gained accreditation as a Solicitor Advocate with Higher Rights of Audience in Hong Kong's Court of First Instance, Court of Appeal and CFA. David has substantial advocacy experience before the Civil Courts, Coroner's Court, Medical and Dental Council and other professional tribunals. He appreciates the importance of getting involved in a case and managing the evidence and strategies from day 1.

David has a Master's Degree in Medical Law and Ethics which puts him on good stead in providing regulatory advice to healthcare institutions including hospitals, biotechnology companies, medical device manufacturers and specialist group practices. He has a special interest in advising on mental health law, medical criminal proceedings, clinical trials, and due diligence in corporate transactions.

In 2008, David was appointed as an Honorary Associate Professor by the Department of Pathology, Faculty of Medicine, The University of Hong Kong. He regularly lectures at the University as well as to the Specialist Colleges. He provides clients with training in clinical risk management.

David keeps up to date with clinical medicine. He has served on various governing boards including those of a government hospital and a major international school. He is a qualified coach with the Squash Rackets Association (UK) and he trains almost daily.

Jill has extensive experience advising on banking and securities laws, data privacy, cybercrime and financial crime issues. She advises on both contentious (investigations, dawn raids, penalties, etc.) and non-contentious (business initiatives, licensing, client documents and disclosures, regulatory gap analysis) matters; and is eminently well-placed to advise clients from both perspectives.

She was previously Deputy General Counsel at the Hong Kong Monetary Authority and was in-house counsel at Credit Suisse. In addition, Jill has also worked in leading international law firms in Hong Kong. This combination of different legal roles allow her to provide constructive insights into the issues and challenges facing listed companies, financial institutions, their senior managers and professional advisers.

Jill has hands-on practical experience in liaising with regulators, advising on regulatory compliance and implementing changes to internal practices, conducting internal investigations and advising on corporate governance. Jill has represented clients, both institutions and individuals, in numerous regulatory investigations and disciplinary inquiries. In addition to the financial services regulators (SFC, HKMA, HKEX), she also deals with other authorities such as the police, ICAC and Privacy Commissioner.

Jill is also active in advising clients on emerging regulatory issues such as ESG, virtual assets and NFTs.

Jill is one of the authors of "Securities and Futures Ordinance": Commentary and Annotations, published by Thomson Reuters (now preparing its 5th edition), and she speaks regularly at client events and industry conferences. She served on the Disciplinary Panel of the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants for several years and is currently the Chairman of the British Chamber of Commerce's Financial Markets Committee in Hong Kong. She is on the Editorial Board of LexisNexis's Practical Guidance series and issues the SFC Enforcement Tracker for the series. She is regularly identified as a leading lawyer in legal directories.

Michael is experienced in a wide range of commercial litigation, including shareholder disputes involving both listed companies and high-profile private companies (many of which involve a cross-border element). He has also acted in litigation involving financial services institutions (including mis-selling claims and negligence claims), claims involving directors, and disputes over asset acquisitions.

A large part of Michael's practice at Howse Williams involves contentious employment matters (acting for both employers and employees), including claims over termination and remuneration, enforcement of post-termination restrictions, discrimination claims and partnership disputes. He advises employers and statutory bodies on internal investigations and disciplinary proceedings, and has represented a number of individuals in SFC investigations. He also has significant experience in conducting and defending judicial review proceedings.

Michael also has extensive insurance experience, particularly in relation to the defence of professional negligence claims and advising on coverage issues. He has been a panel solicitor for the Hong Kong Solicitors Professional Indemnity Scheme since 1998, and has represented both local and international law firms in connection with a broad range of claims.

Patricia has focused on employment law since qualifying as a solicitor in 2011, and her experience in employment matters is now widely recognised in Hong Kong. Patricia heads up HW's employment team, which consists of two partners (including Patricia) and three associates.

Patricia regularly advises employers and senior executives on both contentious and non-contentious employment matters. Her practice covers a wide range of work, including drafting employment contracts, handbooks and policies, terminations and advising upon the enforcement of post-termination restrictions and confidentiality obligations. She and her team frequently advise on the employment aspects of M&A deals and business transfers. Many of her clients operate in the financial services sector, and she frequently negotiates exit packages in relation to high-level employees of banks, brokerages and insurance companies. Patricia also advises upon the employment issues arising from discrimination and harassment, personal data related matters and immigration issues (including prosecutions). She also has experience in assisting employers and employees during the conduct of internal investigations and discrimination/harassment complaints.

Patricia has an in-depth knowledge of the Labour Tribunal, having assisted parties involved in Labour Tribunal proceedings for several years. She has also represented both plaintiffs and defendants in both District and High Court actions involving substantial claims for unpaid bonuses, enforcement of restrictive covenants and claims for injunctive relief in Hong Kong, including applications for injunctive relief. She also advises clients on licencing issues and regulatory investigations involving the SFC and the HKMA.

▀ Professional Recognition

Patricia has been ranked by Legal 500 as a Next Generation Lawyer in 2017 and by Chambers Asia as an Associate to Watch from 2015-2017. Comments include:

2017: "She's very impressive and practical"

2015: "She's great; she knows what the situation with the case is all the time. She's very on the ball, really tough and really smart."

Patricia has also been listed in the Labour and Employment section of the 2017 edition of Who's Who Legal.

Patricia is the author of the 'Hong Kong Employment Ordinance - An Annotated Guide', which is published by Lexis Nexis.
